INTRODUCTION TO THE ALBUM

We have signed Daniel O'Donnell to The David Gresham Record Company and we are embarking on major TV advertising with SABC 2 and 3 with Sounds Good and Daniel should do equally well, if not better than the Foster & Allen series. This album charted in the UK at No. 5.

Daniel's interest in music began as a teenager, when he enjoyed traditional Irish dancing at the local village hall. Daniel's career started to take off after he recorded and released Johnny McCauley's My Donegal Shore in 1983, with £1200 of his own money, selling most of the copies himself. Later that year, he formed his own music group, Fever. After the group disbanded, he formed The Roots. In 1985, the manager of Ritz label, Mick Clerkin, saw him perform and introduced him to Sean Reilly, who remains his manager to this day. Daniel has produced and recorded over 30 albums. O'Donnell has charted 18 albums in the top 20 of the US Billboard publication's "World Music" albums chart and also has had several entries in the "Independent albums" chart.
